RIWWA Meeting

Coast Guard House
40 Ocean Road
Narragansett, RI

December 11, 2008

8:45 – 9:00 AM Registration and Coffee

9:00 – 9:45 AM “Distribution System and Source Water Monitoring for Water Quality and Security”

Terry Engelhardt, Application Sales Engineer, Hach Homeland Security Technology

This presentation will discuss the monitoring of distribution systems and source water for both water quality and security purposes. In the post 9/11 era, monitoring water quality after it leaves the plant has become critical in order to detect any chemistry changes that could indicate the presence of contaminants. Hach has been a leader in technology that continuously monitors and trends water quality so that any significant changes are detected and reported.

9:45-10:30 AM “Water System Security and Threats”

Gregg Giasson, P.E., Assistant Chief Engineer, Pawtucket Water Supply Board

This presentation will focus on water system security and backflow and cross connection control. The security piece will focus on threats to your water system, how to plan for and react when threats arise and what to do to protect your system against security threats. The backflow and cross connection piece will focus on identifying backflow and cross connection hazards and how to address these concerns.
